

Experiment Instruction

2-Alternative Forced Choice

For each trial in the experiment, there will be two gray patches presented on the screen. The task is to choose the brighter side, left or right. (see examples below)

The experiment consists of two sessions. The first session is done with E-Paper setting and the second session is done with a monitor setting. Each session consists of two blocks, each block has different types of stimuli. Each block consists of a total 120 trials. There will be a notice on the screen at every half of the block.

For both sessions, please read the instructions shown on the screen carefully and follow them.

1. Session: With E-Paper

To choose the brighter side, press the Left or Right trigger button in the front of the gamepad.

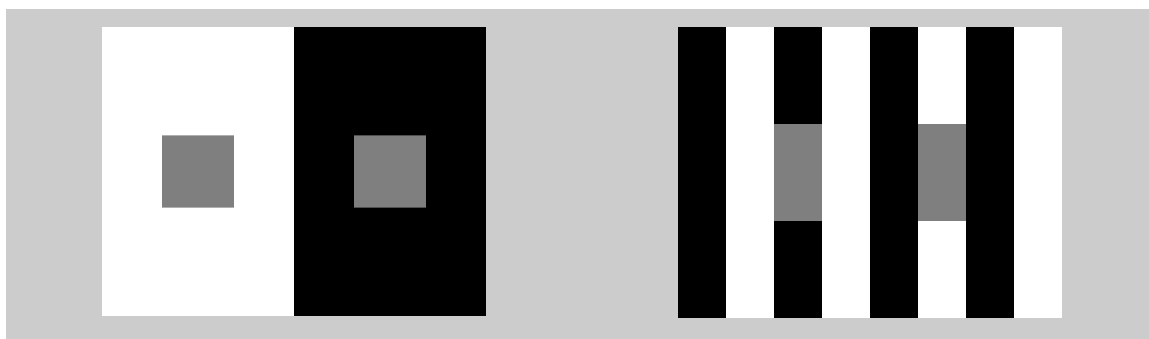

It takes a few seconds to load each trial.

2. Session: With Monitor

To choose the brighter side, press the left or right button on the pad.

If there is any question or an error during the experiment, please let the experimenter know.

Example stimulus in 1. Block

Example stimulus in 2. Block